As a Marist College, we are deeply concerned about each and every student in our care. We believe strongly that education is based on sound relationships and our Pastoral Program aims to nurture this relationship. Pastoral Care is the College’s expression of its concern for the development of the whole person. At Marcellin College it is expressed through:

- the development of quality relationships
- the provision of satisfying learning experiences
- the establishment of an effective care network
- the effective implementation of the College Behaviour Management Policy

Excellence in Teaching and Learning

In an educational context, an essential requirement for Pastoral Care is that we are effective teachers. Lessons should be well-prepared, innovative, challenging, interesting and student-centred. Assignments should be corrected in a reasonable time. Work at home or at the College should be checked regularly and every opportunity taken to give credit for effort made. Students should be continually challenged to reach their potential.
Sense of Belonging, College Morale and Family Spirit

A school with a strong sense of belonging helps those boys who feel some dislocation in their lives to belong. A school that fosters a sense of belonging offers the students some community and family spirit, which is welcoming and stable in a world of change. College spirit and identity is a multi-faceted phenomenon and seems to rise from many sources e.g. the Orientation Program for incoming students and parents, regular College assemblies and liturgies, participation in public events together (such as cultural and sporting fixtures), the loyalty of teachers for the College, celebration of College events, College rituals and the development of parent and student loyalties to the College. Bonding of students occurs when they experience an affinity for the College as a place where they are recognised as people and feel linked with others. Bonding offers support and affirmation for each person in the College community. They know that their presence in the College community is significant to the group and they have some real contribution to make to its growth.

In order to facilitate these expressions, key structures are in place to support the care of students.

Year Group, Homeroom and Pastoral Care Program

The Pastoral Care Program which is overseen by the Deputy Headmaster permeates the entire care life of the College, including; ancillary & support staff, volunteers and maintenance staff. It operates through the Year group and the homeroom class. Each Year group is supervised by the Year Co-ordinator who is responsible for their respective Year group and is assisted by the Homeroom teachers who take care of the homeroom classes.

This system provides an opportunity for staff to develop a very positive relationship with a group of boys outside what is experienced in the classroom. It reflects a concern not just for the intellectual growth of the boys but the development of the whole person - spiritual, academic, social, physical and emotional. As such, the Homeroom teacher is well-placed to be the first point of contact for parents.

The program for the Pastoral lessons is an integrated one incorporating spiritual development, study skills, social and community education, and other areas of study or activities which are appropriate to each Year level. As such the lessons are structured and well-planned, based on the experience and knowledge of boys at their various levels of development. The Year Co-ordinators determine the program in consultation with the Pastoral teachers, and together they form the Pastoral team at each Year level - monitoring the boys’ academic progress and ensuring their wellbeing. Meeting time will be provided at the start of each term for Pastoral teams to fine-tune the program for the term.

Our Rituals
Central to the development of good Pastoral Care is the development of rituals that support and maintain a good relationship between, the College, home, church and education. In specific ways every day and each year we proclaim that we are members of the Church and manifest Jesus to our Community through:
• daily prayer in classrooms and at assemblies
• staff prayer in meetings
• our commitment to our Marist identity and Mary as Mother and Patroness of the College
• our proclamation of Saint Marcellin Champagnat (founder of the Marist Brothers) as Model and Patron of the College.

Our major Liturgies:
• Inaugural Mass
• Champagnat Day Mass
• Parent and Son Mass
• Graduation Mass

Teacher-student Interaction
Much Pastoral Care is experienced by casual and incidental teacher student interaction. Teachers should try to be present, at least from time to time, where the students are gathered. The recreation yard, before school, in the classroom, sport fields and canteen are some of the areas where students gather for sharing and peer interaction. The listening presence of a teacher in such areas allows dialogue between students and teachers to happen outside structured and more formal classroom periods.
Affirmation
A climate of affirmation encourages students to imbibe a sense of personal self worth and to know that their gifts are appreciated. Affirmation seeks a new creation in each person, touching the dream time of another, allowing talents to come to fruition.

Pastoral Care seeks a climate whereby boys are provided with opportunities for realising the talents which are theirs and that due recognition is given to such talents. Affirmation reaches to all aspects of College life, from formal College assemblies, to individual presence in the classroom, to the challenge to the peer group which inhibits or stunts the giftedness of other students.
